PREFACE.

The Epigraphical Survey of the Madras Presidency, together with that of some selected places in the adjoining States like Mysore, Hyderabad, Travancore, Cochin and Pudukkottai commenced more than 50 years ago. During this period of half a century, over 24,000 inscriptions in temples and other ancient monuments and about 500 copper-plate grants from various sources have been copied, studied and reviewed in the Annual Reports on Epigraphy issued till 1921 and the Annual Reports on South Indian Epigraphy issued in subsequent years. So far no exhaustive list of the several villages so surveyed has been published. Consequently scholars interested in Epigraphy and the public connected with the management of the numerous temples in South India have for a long time felt the need for a book of reference which would give the names of the villages under the various Taluks and Districts and the references to the Annual Reports in which their contents were reviewed. It has therefore been considered advisable to issue a comprehensive list of the villages giving the particular years and the numbers of their inscriptions, as incorporated in the Epigraphical Reports.

In this connection it was felt that such a list without information regarding the inscriptions already published would not be of great use or assistance to the public or to scholars interested in Epigraphy. With a view to furnish full information in this direction, an Appendix has been added to the main list of inscriptions, which gives references to the several publications concerned.

I am highly indebted to Rao Bahadur K. N. Dikshit, M.A., F.R.A.S.B., Director General of Archæology, who has evinced great interest in the matter of issuing this publication and afforded me all facilities and encouragement. I am also glad to acknowledge the assistance of the several members of my office who have spared no pains to make the work as exhaustive and thorough as possible.
